JONESPOOLS.COM

It's that feeling you get, your backyard oasis is just feet away. Everything seems different, brighter, the summer sun feels hotter, weekends seem longer and Sundays have become 'fun'days' lounging in the pool. Anticipation for the mornings to arrive and evening to never end. Coming home and letting the work week stress float away as water falls gently in the background, relaxing, soaking in the warm sun. Love and laughter coat the backyard, entertaining has never been so much fun. The warm giggles of children swimming and splashing, entertained and exhausted from a full day of fun and exercise. It's the late night swims under a full moon in a lukewarm pool, relaxing in the hot tub with an ice cold drink with the one you love. Sitting on the edge of the pool, with your feet dangling, catching up with a friend. It's that feeling you get, knowing your backyard oasis has brought family and friends closer together, creating memories that will last a life time.
